Capturing your day one intimate moment at a time

Welcome! I'm Emily.

I specialize in documentary-style photography — which means my focus is always on capturing the honest, unposed magic that makes your day truly yours. Posed photos have their time and place, but given the chance, I'll always lean into the candid shots. After all, some of the best memories aren't from the big moments — but from the quiet, in-between ones where you're most yourselves.

My unique approach

I'm not just the one who takes the photos. I'm the one who shares trusted vendor recommendations, teaches the groomsmen how to pin their boutonnieres, and fluffs your dress before I capture the shot. I'm here to help you build a timeline that makes sense, calm your nerves when needed, and make sure you feel truly looked after from start to finish. My goal is to create an experience that goes far beyond what you'd expect from a photographer — so yes, you'll get a beautiful gallery, but you'll also get someone who cares deeply about every part of your day.

Kind words

★★★★★

"Emily was simply amazing. She captured our wedding exactly as we'd pictured, and both my partner and I were a bit anxious about being in front of the camera the entire day felt nothing but relaxed and comfortable, and it really shows in the final results. Looking through our album I think we said "awww look at THAT ONEEE" probably 200 times, I am going to have the hardest time choosing just a few to hang up in our home. We have received so many compliments from our friends and family about how gorgeous our photos turned out. You will definitely not be disappointed!"

Let's make art

My Intention

To truly understand your vision and bring it to life in a way that feels honest, meaningful, and entirely you.

My Plan

To stay connected with you throughout the planning process so our ideas stay aligned and you always feel supported.

My Promise

To deliver a stunning final gallery that feels like you and your partner — allowing you to relive your wedding day, your way, over and over again.

What you can expect

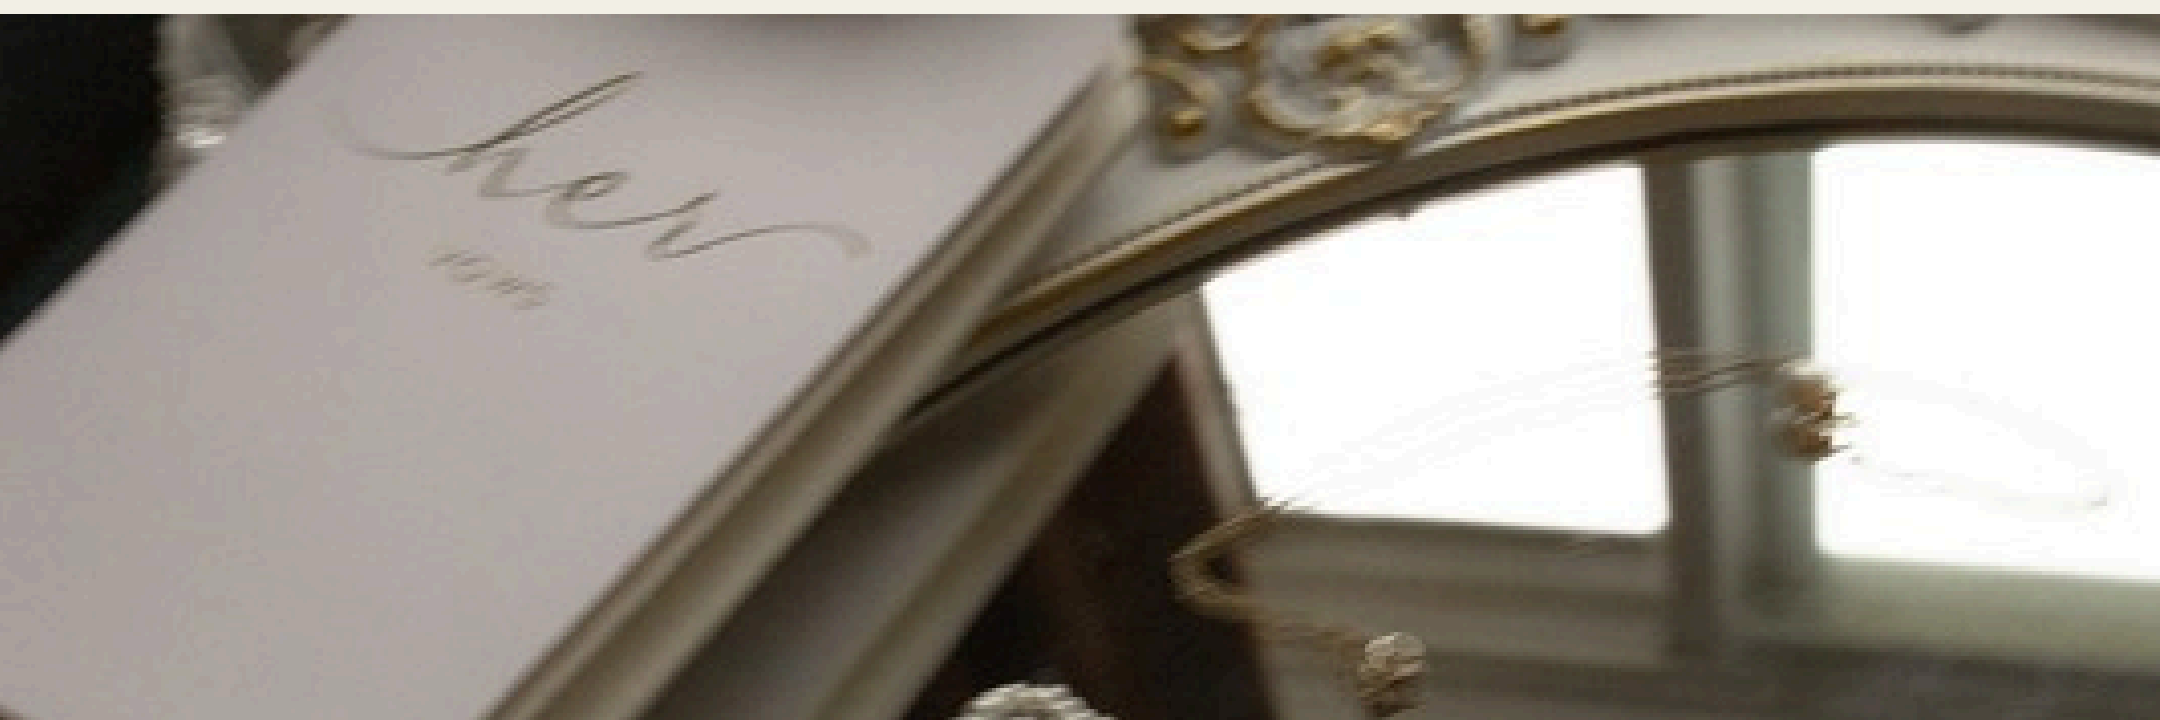

All good relationships require work, including this one! Here's what I'll bring to the table, starting now.

A welcome call

We'll get to know each other and go over any initial thoughts you have about your big day. I'll give you a rundown of next steps, and you can tell me what your expectations and goals are when it comes to documenting your wedding.

Regular communication

In the months leading up to your wedding, I'll send reminder emails to ensure I have everything I need to make your photography vision come to life. This is also how we'll schedule any additional sessions (engagement, bridal, etc.) that are included in your package.

Personalized service

Needs vary from client to client. If you're looking for a more proactive approach from your photographer, say no more. If you'd rather I take a backseat and only reach out when necessary, that's okay too! I'm here to offer my services in a way that best serves you.

A hands-on wedding day experience

From adjusting your veil to assembling family members, I'll do everything I can to ensure that your day goes smoothly. I also leave no stone unturned when it comes to detail shots, so you can expect to see me moving furniture and opening curtains as needed in order to get "the shot".

Fast preview turnaround

You'll receive your preview gallery a few days following your wedding...and I promise it will make your jaw drop.

A lovingly curated final gallery

I pour an abundance of love and energy into every gallery I deliver. From culling to editing, I'll take my time to ensure that your initial vision syncs seamlessly with the final result.

Add-ons

Add a little something to any package with these customizable extras. All add-ons include my gentle guidance, thoughtful storytelling, and edited high-resolution images delivered in an online gallery.

Engagement Session

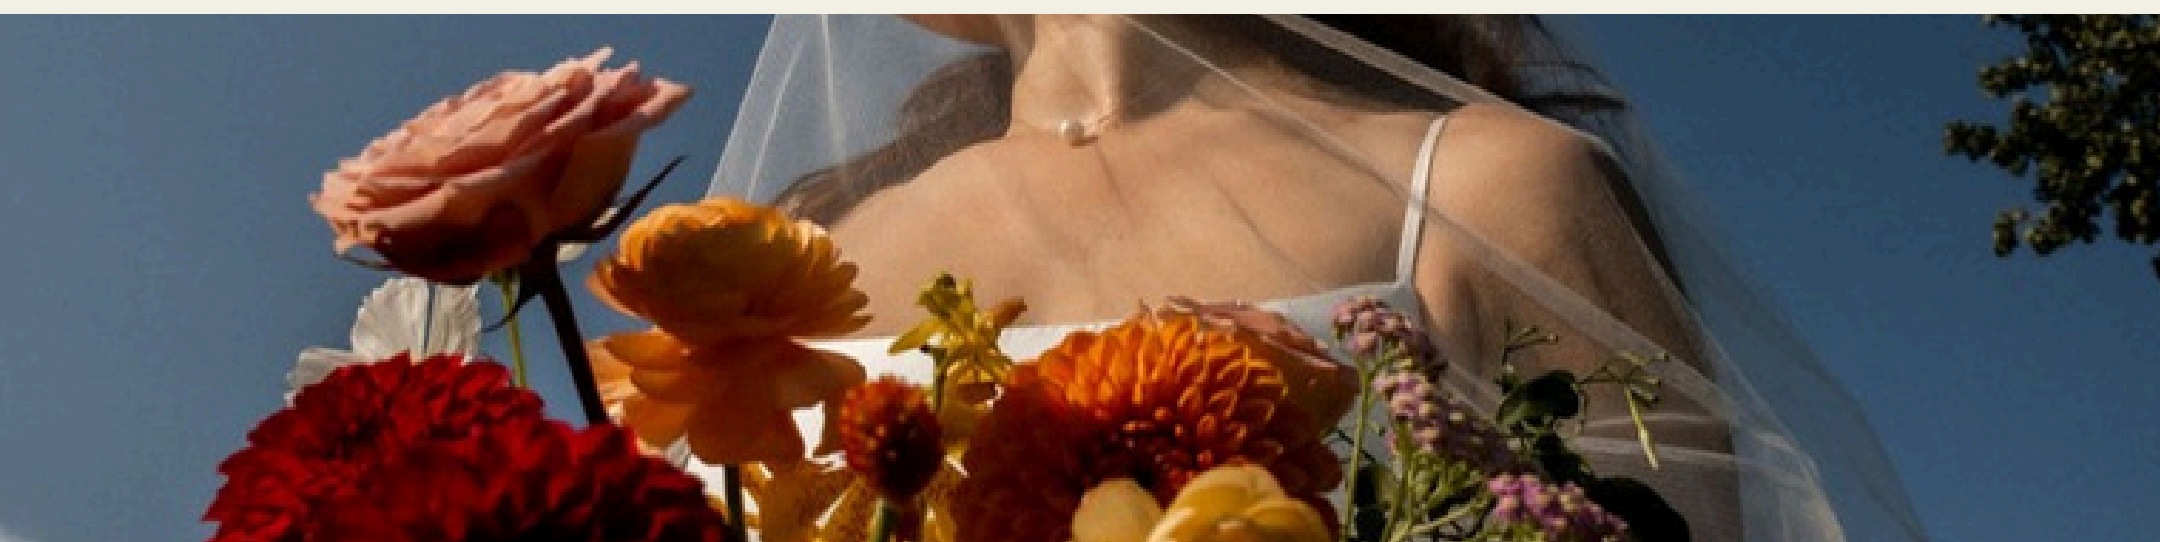

Document this season with a one hour session for you and your fiancé. A beautiful way for us to connect before the big day — so you feel comfortable and your photos feel like you.

Bridal Session

Just for the bride! Whether you use it for a bridal shower or a boudoir album to surprise your new spouse, it's a beautiful way to capture your confidence and joy.

After Session

Whether you book it three days or three months after you tie the knot, this session is all about celebrating your new marriage and documenting the magic of your “just married” season.

Additional Hours

Need more breathing room for photos on your wedding day? Add an extra hour or two to your coverage so you can document every moment without feeling rushed.

Film

A roll of film offers a slower, more intentional way of seeing. Soft tones, subtle grain, and quiet imperfections. An elegant and textured addition to your gallery.

Video

A curated collection of moving moments — filmed quietly throughout the day and delivered alongside your gallery. Documentary in style, nostalgic in feel.

The Packages

Each of my packages is built around intention — a balance of coverage, artistry, and care. From inquiry to final gallery, every element is crafted to tell your story with honesty and elegance, ensuring your investment holds its value long after the day has passed.
